About Us

At Cipher we are committed to extracting value from patent data, enabling companies and investors to make better and more informed strategic decisions. We recognize the importance of intellectual property as a growing mainstream asset class and the role of patents in providing a window into who owns what technologies and where. By harnessing the latest advances in machine learning combined with expert analysis, Cipher is disrupting how actionable insight is extracted from global patent data. Information can now be accessed with efficiency, accuracy and at a speed that is just not possible by traditional methods.

We are a fast-growing London company, revolutionizing how companies and investors extract strategic intelligence from global patent data.

Your Career – Solutions Analyst

The primary purpose of the role is the training of machine learning classifiers through supervised learning techniques. The classifiers are used to tag published patents against specific technologies. The supervised learning is all done through the Cipher patent analytics platform and no prior experience of machine learning techniques is necessary.

Your Responsibilities

The role requires following established procedures and best practice to deliver results. Some experience in patent analytics, while not necessary, is an advantage.

Workflow includes desk-based research on specific technologies and companies. Other elements of the role include participation in client scoping and review calls, contribution to qualitative and quantitative analysis, support on client engagement and with new business development activity.

Graduates from STEM programs are desirable but not essential. The role is suited to results orientated individuals with an inquisitive mind who enjoy problem-solving and learning about new technologies and innovations. As we continue to grow there are plenty of opportunities for career development and advancement in this role. This is limited only by an individual’s capability and ambition.
